

DHMS 7th Grade Summer Reading

Rising 7th graders should read two books this summer. The choice is up to you, and these are some suggestions if you need ideas.

Fiction

Amari and the Night Brothers by B.B. Alston

Crossover by Kwame Alexander (novel or graphic novel)

Efrén Divided by Ernesto Cisneros

El Deafo by Cece Bell

Fever 1793 by Laurie Halse Anderson

A Good Kind of Trouble by Lisa Moore Ramée

Ground Zero by Alan Gratz

Inside Out & Back Again by Thanhha Lai

Lily and Dunkin' by Donna Gephart

Miss Peregrine's Home for Peculiar Children by Ransom Riggs (novel or graphic novel)

Pashmina by Nidhi Chanani

Piece by Piece: The Story of Nisrin's Hijab by Priya Huq

Restart by Gordon Korman

Scythe by Neal Shusterman

The Underground Abductor by Nathan Hale

Nonfiction

All Thirteen by Christina Soontornvat

March Forward, Girl by Melba Pattillo Beals

They Called Us Enemy by George Takei

Learn more about these books on our DHMS Summer Reading website. <http://dhmslibrary.weebly.com/summer>

★ Indicates graphic novel